Dan Brill Travels to Cambodia

Dan Brill, President and Creative Director of Brill Creative, recently witnessed firsthand the humanitarian work being accomplished across the globe by Cincinnati-based charity, Transitions Global. Founded by Cincinnati residents James and Athena Pond, Transitions provides a high-quality, results-driven, restorative aftercare model that responds to the primary issues facing young 13-18 year old victims of human trafficking in Cambodia.

This non-profit organization offers a unique approach to restoring the lives of girls, providing a highly individualized and holistic care that meets the diverse needs of each victim. The Transitions program offers a continuum method that may last as long as several years, and was developed to ensure each survivor the highest opportunity for personal triumph. Boasting an unprecedented success rate, Transitions makes it their mission to reintegrate the girls that they serve into Cambodian society with the life and career skills necessary to begin new futures as independent adults.

Dan Brill, a Madeira resident, became involved with the group after hearing Transitions founder and President James Pond speak at a local event. A collaborative work relationship began shortly thereafter and the two Cincinnati executives formed a partnership that brought Brill to the Transitions "Dream Home" in February. The Creative Director traveled to Phnom Penh, Cambodia's capital, to further develop Transitions Global's long-range marketing strategies, and witness the Cincinnati founded organization in action. "It's amazing to see the happiness and lightheartedness these young people have achieved after going through so much darkness. My visit to Cambodia and work with Transitions was extremely worthwhile," shares Brill.

In addition to the ongoing work in Cambodia, Transitions is currently researching the possibility of opening a U.S. based Transitions location to serve U.S. victims of human trafficking. The 501(c)3 non-profit public charity has been instrumental in helping organizations in Greece, India, Indonesia and the United States in developing effective aftercare programs for victims.

Reserve those Conference Rooms

Is your schedule getting busy? Do you have more meetings in the Spring? Be sure to contact me to schedule those needed conference room times. They're filling up quickly.

We also want to remind everyone that each and every Friday the refrigerators will be cleaned out. So please take home any leftover food you want to keep. We will gladly wash any plastic containers for you but will also be discarding them after a couple weeks if not claimed due to the limited space we have in our kitchen cabinets.

New coffee mugs are coming! Please be sure to bring any used mugs back to the kitchen each day to be washed until the new ones arrive.

Proper Toner Cartridge Disposal

Have an empty ink or toner cartridge to discard. Remember, toner cartridges should not end up in the landfill.

Let us help.

Bring your empty cartridge to the front desk and we'll ensure it is recycled properly.

Dan blogged about his experiences during the trip. He shared glimpses and observations of the beautiful work Transitions Global is engaged with and also shared his personal experiences as he immersed himself in Southeast Asian culture. The photographic images he captured during the journey are a breathtakingly beautiful visual account of the Southeast Asian culture. You can see them and learn more at Brill's blog at:
